Ask the Motor Medics®

Automotive Advice from The Under the Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,
I want to know about 4-wheel drive and all-wheel drive. I am looking at a 2021 Subaru with all wheel drive and a 2022 Jeep Grand Cherokee with all wheel drive and full time 4-wheel drive. This is a lot to take in and the lots where I am looking to purchase one of these vehicles are not connecting with me on the explanation I am looking for. I want to know about the different systems, and which one is best. I would prefer one that has a 2-wheel drive position but none of these do. Will parts wear faster on these vehicles since they don't?

Thank you, Jack in Toledo Ohio.

Dear Jack,
4-wheel drive has a switchable system with a 2-wheel drive position usually with a low and high range and sometimes even a full-time mode. An all-wheel drive may not be switchable at all by the driver and a full-time 4-wheel drive is also an all-wheel drive but may have a 2-speed transfer case giving you the option of both low and high range. Any system that you can put into 2-wheel drive mode will help with drivetrain wear, but an all-wheel drive system often puts itself into 2-wheel drive mode automatically by way of decoupling two of the drive wheels when not needed to save fuel and wear. It's all consumer choice but a fully automatic system that puts itself into 2-wheel drive can save wear and give you added safety through increased traction.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

Dear Motor Medics,
I have a 2002 Ford F-150, and I am having problems with the trailer lights. Over the years I have needed to have the wiring to the hitch area repaired several times when the trailer would no longer light up. Recently I was told that the wiring could no longer be repaired as it was too corroded and damaged. My shop tried to get a replacement harness to make the repair as it is only two feet long, but it is no longer sold by the dealer. I also need a door latch that the dealer does not have either and is not available at a parts store. What are my options for repairs?

Thank you, Robert, in Jefferson Texas.

Dear Robert,
We are familiar with the trailer light harness issue. The salt and water and even heavy mud on the roads can take their toll on these and as many as we see that have failed, we are a little surprised that we have not seen a source for a replacement part out there yet. Many parts that often fail like these just don't have enough demand that a manufacturer would be willing to build one. You can have your shop or a shop that is willing to do it build you one. We have done it before, and it is not super difficult. The door latch may need to be sourced from an auto recycler.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

BRANDON VALLEY Journal

It's springtime, and one of the rituals of the season took place Friday evening at Brandon Valley High School: Best Buddies Prom. Editor Jill Meier was there with camera in hand to capture the celebratory event.

Brandon City Council met Monday evening, and writer Tom A. Savage brings you the details from the meeting.

We also have the lowdown from Thursday's Planning & Zoning meeting, highlighting the action taken that opens the door for a national coffee chain to set up in Brandon.

The Journal's annual spring sports preview will be in print this week. We bring you the scoop on boys and girls track and field, boys tennis, girls golf, softball and baseball.

Plus, we've got reports from the early-season baseball and tennis action.

And there's a whole lot more. If you find yourself asking, "I wonder what's going on ...," it's surely time to subscribe to the Brandon Valley Journal! Give us a call at (605) 582-9999 to subscribe today so you, too, can be in the know.
