Ask the Motor Medics®

Automotive Advice from The Under the Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2003 Chevy suburban with 200,000 miles on it, but it runs and looks great! No really...I'm serious. I want to know is about the tire pressure monitors and if I can reset them at home. The owner's manual says I can. I service the vehicle regularly and they charge me for resetting the monitor every time I have the tires rotated but the rotation is free with the oil change.

Love the show! Myron in Kansas City Missouri

Dear Myron,

Tire pressure monitors on this vehicle can be reset at home without special tools but not all vehicles are this way so you will have to spend the money in some cases. To reset the monitors on this vehicle is relatively simple. When the tires have changed positions i.e., rotating, a relearn must be done. Start by applying the parking brake, next turn the key to the on position then turn the headlamp switch from off to park lamp three times within five seconds of key on and the horn will beep twice. Now you must decrease the tire pressure starting with the driver's side front tire until the horn beeps. Move to the passenger side front tire then the passenger rear tire and last the drivers rear tire. When you are done with the last tire turn the key off and inflate the tires to the correct pressure. It gets easier once you have done it once.

Take care, the Motor Medics

Helen in Duluth Minnesota

Dear Motor Medics,

I broke my daughters' car, and she won't leave me alone about it. Never mind that I am the one who bought the car and pays for the insurance, the gas, the tires, I could go on forever but she's just not going to get it. I didn't even break it that bad. I borrowed the car and when I went to adjust the rear-view mirror it fell off. I'd tell you the story of what happened when she borrowed my car last, but she would never get over the embarrassment. Anyways, I am stuck with this mirror thing. The metal tab that should be stuck to the window won't stick. I have tried many kinds of glue and it just keeps coming off. Can you help me get this fixed so that I can get my life back?

Dear Helen,

Isn't it fun how these things work? At least you didn't break something more serious. If you had, we could probably help you with that too. As for the mirror, you just need better glue. What you need is special glass glue for mirrors that is available at auto parts stores. Ask the counter guy and they will help. Make sure to follow directions exactly, cleaning as directed and don't over apply the product. When they say one drop, they mean it. Once installed it won't come off so be sure to align it right.

Take care, the Motor Medics
